His Ruse Is Discovered, He Leaves His

from the steamer L'Esperance were

He wore a well built, broad shouldered man in fashionable attire, whose peculiarly upright bearing attracted attention.

Special Constable Inspectors Brown and Donovan, on examining him more closely noticed something larger than a button bulging out at the back of a tightly fitting fall or overcoat. He was taken into the examination room and despite his indignant protests was obliged to remove his clothing.

Then it was found that he wore around his neck something that was a cross between a woman's corset and a life preserver. In it were pockets containing six silver-eight valuable gold watches. The watch he wore about the man looked up in the London street jail.

The name is Louis Marley, and he is a resident at some town in Washington where it is believed he keeps a jewelry store.

The watches found in him were valued at $18,600.

The prisoner, when arraigned before United States Commissioner Shiel and his name was Louis Marley, said that he was still in the Los Angeles area near Seattle. He went to England and England last summer and bought the watches there, he said for $300. He was held for examination in default of $2500 bail.

Seattle—Lonsa March, who was reared in New York City for almost 10 years, was employed in a bakery here up to about six months ago, when he suddenly without giving any explanation except that he was getting too rosy, left the company and was reduced to a beggar. He has no very strong features, but has a very strong character in the height of fashion.

EVANGELIST REDDING.

His First Night Greeted With Large Congregation.

Evangelist Redding, (The Convert), Jew, was greeted with a large congregation at the Baptist church last night. He was assisted by the pastor, Rev. DeWitt, and several controversial persons.

Mr. Redding's countenance does not betray any of the facial characteristics of the Jewish race. His complexion is dark and his eyes are a deep blue, like of a worldly shrew, gives him any but a returned cast. He is of medium height, and wears a pale of bowed spectacles which impart to the size of his face.

His greatest charm are his voice and hands. In accents low and sweet with surmised hands soft and white tapering fingers, he added upon a steady and intense to lead a crowd to come forward and take by the hand.

It was while the choir was singing and while he walked up and down the front of the congregation with men and women, softly elevating in with the music, several young men who did not look at all as if they were hardened sinners, the Evangelist gave them

The remainder of the congregation did not go to the front because they had not been converted long yet, and did not understand the invitation to be there for them as well. However, when Redding called upon those who were already leading a Christian life, they began to kneel, and the whole assembly went forward. Mr. Redding obliged to use both hands to hold them with.

The inauguration of his mission might was a brilliant success, and the converts were equally as pronounced. There were on the occasion of his return here. He will continue in the good work during the week.

A BOY SHOT

Received a Large Bullet in the Neck.

HE WOUND IS A SERIOUS ONE
An 8-year-old Lad Picks Up a Revolver and Accidentally Shoots a Playmate.

The 8-year-old son of John Albion, proprietor of the Pleasanton hotel, accidentally shot the 6-year-old son of Mr. De La Fontaine, a waiter in the same hotel yesterday afternoon.

The bullet, a .31-caliber, entered the little fellow's chest, passed through it and lodged in the neck on the other side. The wound will not be necessary unless it is a blood poisoning case.

AN EXPLORATORY PARTY.
At about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon the little fellows went on a journey of exploration through the annex adjoining the hotel on the north. One of the lodgers had left his key on the outside of the door of his room, and Albion and De La Fontaine, common to children, proceeded to make a custom-house inspection of the lodger's effects.

It was located.
On opening one of the bureau drawers they were delighted to find a beautiful .44-caliber revolver lying in a corner.

Of course, it wasn't loaded. Nobody ever loaded a loaded pistol in a bureau drawer. Older people have made a similar mistake many times, and the little fellows were too young to know anything about revolvers except that people never left loaded revolvers lying around loose.

HE PULLED THE TRIGGER.
Young Albion took up the weapon and pulled the trigger. He would expect to find a bullet in his hand, and the De La Fontaine boy, who was standing by, saw the bullet enter the door of the room in which the weapon was held. He saw the bullet enter the door of the room in which the weapon was held.

It was hard to tell at first which of the boys was hurt the most severely. Their screams and the report of the pistol brought some of the lodgers into the room, and medical assistance was summoned immediately.

Mrs. De La Fontaine, the mother of the injured lad, also employed in the hotel.

A BURGALAR SHOT AT.
Patrick O'Connell greets one with a bullet.

A burglar entered the basement of Bodega hall yesterday morning about 2 o'clock, and passing up a staircase leading to the back door of the saloon tried to force the lock.

The noise awakened Patrick O'Connell, one of the bartenders who were sleeping in a room at the back of the saloon. Mr. O'Connell rushed for a Colt's .45-caliber revolver that was lying on a chair at his bedside and sent a bullet through the window.

He heard the burglar tumble down stairs and scramble out through a back window. Mr. O'Connell did not catch up of bed. The night was cold and he reasoned correctly that the burglar would not try to get in again.

When Mr. O'Connell opened the saloon in the morning he found that the burglar had gone into the vacant lot adjoining the Fresno National bank and had cut out the wire screen of a window leading into the basement of Bodega hall. He had opened the window-catch with the blade of a knife and selected an entrance.

FRESNO'S FINE FRUIT.
Liberal Donations of Raisins—More Notes Wanted.

The following contributions were made to the World's Fair commission yesterday:

Frank Ball 500 pounds of raisins; Miss L. H. Hatch 500 pounds; H. Eggers 500 pounds; J. Clark, Central colony, 300 pounds; George H. Dudley, Nita vineyard, Central colony, 500 pounds.

Only one donation of nuts has been received, that of Mrs. J. F. Fernald of Olean, who sent in two jars of almonds. The commission is desirous of getting many samples of nuts grown in this county as possible. Almost every variety of nuts known to the civilized world is produced here, and a complete exhibit of them should be shown at the World's Fair.

THE CHRISTIAN REVIVAL.
Rev. B. J. Dillon Attracting Large Congregations.

The revival service at the Christian church are drawing good congregations, and many conversions have been already reported.

Rev. B. J. Dillon is a speaker of more than ordinary force and magnetism. It might be considered strange that magnetism should be thought necessary to draw people into the church, but it is nevertheless true that strong individuality is a potent factor in the propagation of any creed.

The revival will continue during the remainder of the week. The subject for this evening will be "Jesus, Both Man and God."

SWINE WORKMEN.

Their Condition Graphically Described by L. Giacomazzi.

L. Giacomazzi, of this city, has returned after an eighteen months' visit to his native country in Switzerland. He returns convinced that America is the best country under the sun for a poor man and that California is the best state in America. Stone cutting and mason work are the leading occupations in that canton and the most skilled workmen in those branches receive only from 50 to 70 cents per day.

This is much less than the same wages in California because the cost of living is greater in Switzerland than it is in California. Live cattle on foot are sold at prices ranging from $40 to $70 per head, being from two to four times the price in California, and beefsteak sells at 40 cents per pound.

Swiss laborers do not eat beefsteaks, but their diet consists mainly of soup, bread, cheese and the cheaper kind of vegetables. Mr. Giacomazzi says that the ordinary cheap hotel rates there are as high as a good deal more than the most skilled artisans can earn.

In fact wages are so low that families cannot afford to keep house. They board in numbers of 100 or more at boarding houses where they are supplied with a rate low enough to enable them to pay room rent.

To be a laborer or a mechanic in Switzerland and in some other parts of Europe means to be a slave. In fact a European is considered very fortunate who can save enough money to engage a steamer passage for America. But he must half starve himself to do that.

PATTERSON-BERNHARD.
THE WEDDING OF TWO POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE.

It Was a Very Pretty Affair—Handsome Presents Received—The Wedding Tour.

Two of Fresno's most popular young people were united in marriage last evening. They were T. W. Patterson and Miss Lizzie Bernhard. The ceremony took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hughes, brother-in-law and sister respectively of the bride. But for the ill health of Mrs. Hughes, the occasion would have been celebrated with alacrity; as it was, only the relatives of the happy pair were present. It was, nevertheless, one of the prettiest weddings that have taken place in this city.

The apartments used for the occasion were beautifully decorated with flowers, and the ceremony was held in a drawing room, which was brilliantly lighted and with its floral decorations, presented a dazzling scene. Chrysanthemums and lilies formed the decoration of the remaining rooms. From the chancel in the drawing room, the bride and groom, accompanied by the bridesmaids and groomsmen, proceeded to the altar.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of white and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet. Many costly and handsome presents were received by the bride and groom.

After an hour or so spent in conversation the company repaired to the dining room to partake of a sumptuous repast. The time was merrily whiled away until near train time, when the bride and groom, accompanied by their bridesmaids and groomsmen, left for their wedding tour. They left the house amid a shower of rice and heartiest good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left for the southbound train and will spend a brief season in Southern California. They will then go to San Francisco by water and return to Fresno later.

The groom is one of Fresno's most sterling young business men and has a fine record in the city. He is a native of this city and has been a resident of this city since he was a boy. He is a member of the Fresno Chamber of Commerce and is a very popular man in the city.

Miss Bernhard is a native of this city and has been a resident of this city since she was a girl. She is a member of the Fresno Chamber of Commerce and is a very popular woman in the city.

A Verdict of Manslaughter

SUICIDE OF LOTTIE MILLER.
Deed of an Erring Girl—She Took a Brain.

Special to The Republican.
VISALIA, November 16.—Anton Bergardo was tried yesterday for the murder of Lottie Miller and was convicted of manslaughter. The jury was out only thirty minutes. The prisoner will be sentenced on Monday.

District Attorney Felt appeared for the people and R. L. Irwin for the defense. The murder occurred before sunrise at a Mexican work camp on the Rice ranch, near Farmersville, on the morning of July 23d last.

The Mexicans have been drinking heavily, and it appears to be a clear case of a drunken murder. A Mexican who saw the tragedy said at the time that there were no words passed between the two men, and that Bergardo walked into a tent and walked to the door. He then said to Lottie, "I believe I will shoot you."

He then presented the gun and fired the charge into Lottie's breast. The wounded man fell, then got up and took out a knife and walked to his assailant. The murderer backed his face and made a dash for it on the way. He made a dash for it on the way. He made a dash for it on the way.

JOSEPH MEDLEY KILLED.

His Pocket Picked of $37 in a Saloon.

Joseph Medley, a football rancher, came to this city yesterday with a load of hogs which he sold to the butchers.

After buying some provisions and paying a few bills he had $40 left, and he proceeded last night to liquidate some of the surplus in Ralston's saloon on H street.

He treated the crowd several times and had $37.50 left. On each occasion he freely displayed his purse and its contents and there is no doubt that he had the money.

At that interesting stage of the proceedings a bystander asked him for the loan of a dollar and Mr. Medley, with the liberality characteristic of the football rancher, gave him a dollar as a keepsake. He then called everybody to the bar for a farewell round, but to his amazement his purse, which but a moment before had been replaced in his pocket, was gone.

History records the fact that the night was exceedingly wild and boisterous on Treasure Hill when a mining gentleman named Mulligan lost his all at faro, but the storm on Treasure Hill and the loss of his money were not as great as the loss of his money.

Two of the men had been drinking and the third was a stranger. One of these was found later and searched, but his pockets did not prove to be a gold mine or even a silver mine.

Mr. Medley will go home today and raise some more hogs.

A COSTLY ELECTION.
WHAT FRESNO COUNTY WILL HAVE TO PAY

For the One Held on November 18th.
The Same Item.

The general election held on the 18th instant will cost Fresno county about $12,000 and $13,000, and when every bill is in may exceed the higher figure.

County Clerk Williams was asked by a Republican reporter yesterday to give his estimate of the cost of the election to this county, and the several items of expense aggregated the sum just mentioned.

"The hills are not in the shape to enable me to get at them just now, but I can give you a rough estimate," said the county clerk. "The cost of the biggest election in this county is $12,000. If you wish to include the salaries paid to extra clerks for work on the register you will have to add about $2,500 to the sum already given, making $14,500."

"The law provides that an election officer shall not be allowed more than $10 for his services. Many will, no doubt, put in bids for the full amount, but they are not likely to get it. I estimate that the cost of the election will be about $12,000. If you wish to include the salaries paid to extra clerks for work on the register you will have to add about $2,500 to the sum already given, making $14,500."

"In a number of precincts rooms had to be rented, which will cost the county about $1,000. The cost of the election will be about $12,000. If you wish to include the salaries paid to extra clerks for work on the register you will have to add about $2,500 to the sum already given, making $14,500."

"The exact total of the foregoing items is $12,500. The estimates on several of the items seem somewhat low and the amount may be swelled to $15,000. A Sacramento paper says that the election will cost the county $15,000, which seems an exaggeration. It is possible, however, that they may have used more expensive supplies than this county."

Supporting $15,000, the cost of the election will be about $12,000. If you wish to include the salaries paid to extra clerks for work on the register you will have to add about $2,500 to the sum already given, making $14,500."

Everybody who attended the chrysanthemum pete given by the ladies of the St. James' guild at the armory last night regretted that it was to be only a one-night affair. Nothing prettier has been seen in Fresno than the bowers of the flower that has taken popular favor by storm. The lot was a great success, the attendance being very large; and the several booths did a big business and all enjoyed themselves hugely.

The first booth to the right of the entrance was the refreshment booth, where ice cream, cake and sandwiches were served. It was tastefully decorated, and presided over by Mrs. D. H. Dealey, assisted by Mesdames J. E. Dealey, W. N. Snow, A. O. Williams and C. H. Markham. It was the place of the hungry and thirsty and did a good business.

The next booth was the Japanese booth, a very unique and artistic affair. Mesdames O. Davidson and Mary Hahn, and Mrs. Annie Redford were in costume and looked enough to charm the eyes of the most fastidious. They had a number of beautiful Japanese articles for sale, including a fine tea set, a fine vase, and a fine clock.

FARLEY VINDICATED.

His Successor Blackballed Out of the Books.

Notwithstanding the strenuous efforts that are being made to triangulate the fire department peace and harmony do not yet prevail.

An illustration of the truth of this saying was observed at the recent meeting of hook and ladder company No. 1. Street Superintendent Jones proposed for membership the company Junior Officer who took the place of Pink Farley after he had been ousted by the Tri-angulation.

Mr. Farley has some friends in the company, and when the white and black balls had been counted there were found a sufficient number of black balls to keep Mr. Dickey out of the company.

The vote was not intended as a reflection upon Mr. Dickey personally. He appears to be a very young man, but Mr. Farley's friends wished to show their disapproval of the action of the Tri-angulation in endeavoring to make the fire department a body of political machines.

From which it may be seen that the vote was not intended as a reflection upon Mr. Dickey personally. He appears to be a very young man, but Mr. Farley's friends wished to show their disapproval of the action of the Tri-angulation in endeavoring to make the fire department a body of political machines.

Something on Foot.
Charles M. Palmer, business manager of the Fresno Examiner, Henry D. Bigelow, the great interviewer of the Examiner, and Orrin Black of the Examiner visited A. B. Butler last evening.

Various rumors are current as to the proposed purchase of the Examiner by Mr. Butler. One who was there to establish a Democratic daily paper in this city or to buy out one already established, and another was that they had come to find Miss Wallace's son-in-law, and another was that they had come to find Miss Wallace's son-in-law, and another was that they had come to find Miss Wallace's son-in-law.
